

Emily Ann Roberts

They say the path to the grandest stage is paved with relentless practice, and Emily Ann Roberts embodies this mantra. From humble beginnings on small Knoxville stages to numerous performances at the Grand Ole Opry, Roberts has diligently earned her place in the spotlight. Her journey began as a standout and runner-up finisher on Blake Shelton's team on "The Voice," a remarkable achievement even before graduating high school. Since then, Roberts has amassed more than 160 million global streams, solidifying her status as one of the most magnetic rising stars in country music. Her debut album, Can't Hide Country, showcased her unique blend of traditional country and bluegrass roots, and was spotlighted by Billboard, MusicRow, People, and more. The project was followed by a new EP, Memory Lane. No stranger to the stage, Emily Ann has toured with the likes of Blake Shelton, Cody Johnson, Megan Moroney, Jamey Johnson, and more, and she'll open for Thomas Rhett throughout 2026. Adding to her impressive list of accomplishments, Emily Ann is an ACM New Female Artist of the Year nominee, the AIMP Nashville Rising Artist-Writer of the Year, a member of the Opry NextStage and MusicRow Next Big Thing Classes of 2026, a CMT Next Woman of Country, Nashville Briefing Artist to Watch, and is a featured artist in Walt Disney World's Country Bear Musical Jamboree attraction, performing "Try Everything" from "Zootopia" as Trixie St. Claire. From small-town beginnings to the national spotlight, Emily Ann Roberts continues to captivate audiences and garner countless fans with her tuneful twang, vivid songwriting and charismatic stage presence.
