

ABOUT CLINT BLACK

Clint Black surged to superstardom as part of the fabled Class of 1989, reaching #1 with five consecutive singles from his triple-platinum debut, Killin' Time. He followed that with the triple-platinum Put Yourself in My Shoes, and then a string of platinum and gold albums throughout the 1990s. Perhaps most impressively, Clint wrote or co-wrote every one of his more than three dozen chart hits, part of a catalog that produced 22 #1 and 31 top ten singles, making him one of the most successful singer/songwriters of the modern era. 2025 BMI ICON AND GRAMMY WINNER Clint has sold over 20 million records, earned more than a dozen gold and platinum awards in the US and Canada, landed nearly two dozen major awards and nominations, and earned a star on both the Music City and the Hollywood Walk of Fame. In addition to his music career, Clint has starred in numerous films and television shows and hosted Talking in Circles with Clint Black, which ran for more than five seasons. Most recently, he released his long awaited memoir, Killin' Time: My Life and Music, and served as co-executive producer of the Lifetime original movie When I Said I Do, inspired by his hit song of the same name. He is currently being honored by the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum with Clint Black: The Hard Way On Purpose, a career-spanning exhibition celebrating his enduring impact on country music.
